FORESTS ARE ON FIRE NEAR BEREA COLLEGE

Dr. Osborne Thinks it Work of Incendiaries, is Trying to Get Bloodhounds.

BEREA, Ky., Oct. 23.—The college authorities yesterday telephoned to Captain V. G. Millikin, of Lexington, asking for the use of his bloodhounds to be used in an effort to trail parties who set fire to the forest near Berea. Captain Millikin was sitting on a jury in the Circuit Court at Lexington and was unable to bring the dogs here. The request was from Dr. Osborne, treasurer of Berea College. The fire is raging in what is known as the "Forest Reserve" belonging to the college.

The wind is blowing away from the town and as there is little timber in the suburbs, serious consequences from this source are not apprehended.

Quite a large area is burning and a small army of men are battling with the flames. Some back-firing is being done and woodmen are felling trees in the direction of the burning territory with the hope of making roads the limits.

The fire is about three miles from Berea proper, but the flaming trees can be seen from the town. The section is known as Narrow Gap, and the timber is valuable.

Dr. Osborne says that they had a strong suspicion that the fire is the work of incendiaries, but would not discuss the suspected motive or anything as to the identity of those suspected. He was sorry that he Millikin dogs could not be secured and none could be gotten from elsewhere.

Dr. Osborne took a hopeful view of the situation and said that he believed that the town was in no danger and that the fire could be confined to an area not much greater than that then burning. A high wind, however, would quickly render it beyond control and the loss would be extensive if only timber were burned.

PRIZE OFFERED FOR A SUITABLE NAME.

Mr. D. B. Scobee Offers Skating Ticket to Lady Who Suggests Right Name.

Mr. D. B. Scobee, manager of the Auditorium Skating Rink, has adopted quite a unique scheme to secure a name for a very highly bred trotting yearling that he has under training now. The colt is probably one of the finest bred colts in the State. He is by Searchlight who has a record of 2:03 3/4 and is also a very fine bred horse.

The work-outs of the colt are very flattering and Mr. Scobee is sanguine as to his future. He says he has gone all through the category of names but is unable to find one that suits him. He now offers a five dollar skate book to the lady that sends in the most appropriate name. The names are all to be sent to the Auditorium where Mr. Scobee will select the one he likes best.

MAN IS LOCKED IN

FOLDING BED.

DANVILLE, Ky., Oct. 23.—Mr. James H. Baldwin, the local house mover and heavy lifter, had a close call for his life last Saturday night. He laid down to take a nap, when in a flash the folding bed closed upon him, standing him on his head and in a position that made him absolutely helpless. In the precarious position he struggled for some moments, finally attracting other members of the family, who came to his rescue and brought relief. His left arm was badly mashed and his collar bone was broken. Although Mr. Baldwin is a heavy lifter, he was captured in such a way that he was absolutely helpless. He says that he could not have lived much longer if he had not been relieved as he was about to smother.

Why He Never Spoke.

There was a man in our town, and he was wondrous wise; he never spoke unto his wife of his mother's cakes and pies. The secret of his wisdom—guess it if you can; but if you can't behold it—he was a bachelor man.

"Thank God" for Faults!

Thank God we do not live with saints! We live with people full of faults, and it is excellent, for the faults of others serve us either by imposing a salutary constraint or by the lesson that they give.—Paris Figaro.
